Suzanne started Studio PAVAS, as a busy active parent who wanted her children and friends to have learn in a safe and up-to-date local facility, be exposed to professional teachers and to find their passion. "I started with 20 students and 10 years later we have had over 7500 attend the studio."

"Our philosophy is finding one's passion and talent and balancing that love with family, education and their future. Life long skills are learned through the arts, e.g. time management, commitment, team building, confidence, and leadership," explains Suzanne.
